Notice

AII supplies this space as a place for Stock Investor users to exchange information, tips, ideas, etc. It's a public area, a shared space. If your questions aren't of general interest, you're better off sending E-mail to The Stock Investor Support Team at AII. That's also the place to send tech support questions. This is a community project. Left to themselves, open forums tend to get lost in clutter, making it hard for newcomers to find the good parts. We urge regular visitors to help out by answering questions, removing obsolete or obnoxious material, and adding good new material. Anything posted here may be reorganized, edited, and reprinted elsewhere on AII's sites or in AII publications. All other rights remain with the authors. We sincerely appreciate your help. Thanks!
