* The backtested results for AAI's Conviction systems performance reports were verified to be accurately reproduced with subsequent retesting using TradeStation's Portfolio Maestro by QuantKey, an industry leader in system design and appraisals.

Results do not include dividends, which would likely improve the reported performance.

Results do not include slippage or commissions, which would likely reduce the performance.

Returns are non-compounded. The same "dollar per trade" amount was always used, greatly reducing performance.

System signals were calculated at the end of the day. Real-time data was not used and is not needed.

Study components were based on the group's composition at the time of the study.

The reported performance results were calculated from a third-party portfolio backtesting program. These results are being shown as is and are not guaranteed to be accurate.
