Medicare Part B premiums is that your modified adjusted gross income from two years prior will determine your premiums for the current tax year (e.g., 2023 premiums will be determined by 2021 income). See the box on page 11 for information about premiums and the income-related monthly adjustment amounts (IRMAA).

Selling a Home

Married home sellers filing joint returns can exclude the first $500,000 of capital gains on the sale of a house, provided eligibility requirements are met. The exclusion is $250,000 for single filers. These exclusions are not indexed to inflation and will stay the same in 2023 as they were in 2022.

The capital gains from the sale of a home are determined not only by the difference between what you paid for the house and then sold it for, but also by any adjustments to your cost basis. These adjustments include both certain fees and closing costs as well as many improvements made to your property. Keep receipts for improvements made, such as the replacement of a roof or all of your windows. More information can be found in IRS Publication 523.

Be Vigilant About Tax Scams

The IRS continues to warn about tax scams. Appearing near the top of the agency’s “Dirty Dozen” list are using charitable remainder annuity trusts to eliminate taxable gains, attempting to avoid taxes by making retirement contributions to accounts in Malta, captive insurance arrangements in Puerto Rico and receiving proceeds from the sale of property installments.

Coronavirus pandemic-related scams continue to be used. These typically involve stimulus payments, tax refunds, fake employment offers and fake charities. Scammers may try to contact you via phone calls, texts or emails
